Oozing with aristocracy, this family run Georgian manor estate is set among 500 acres of natural beauty and landscaped parklands, ensuring guests enjoy the best of both worlds; an enviable picturesque setting in the Essex countryside and thanks to excellent transport links, is conveniently close to London.

The sprawling greenery that surrounds the house are all yours to explore and you'll have exclusive access to the house itself ensuring you get to experience what it's like to be Lord and Lady of the manor. There are several spots screaming out to be the setting for your wedding ceremony including the recently refurbished Orangery and new garden gazebo. While The Pavilion situated within the Walled Garden is an idyllic setting to enjoy your drinks reception before sitting down to your Wedding Breakfast.

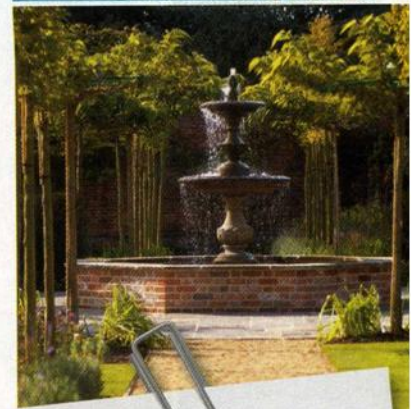

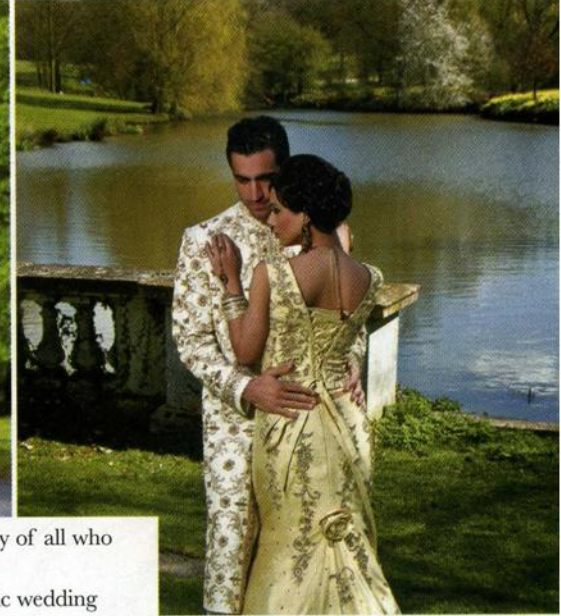

Weddings can be booked between February to September ensuring that whenever you choose, you will have a chance to take full advantage of the beautiful surroundings, whether it's a Spring, Summer or early Autumn wedding you're planning, the seasonal touches will be apparent in the flora and fauna of the gardens - your wedding photos will be the envy of all who see them.

While there are many historic wedding venues in the UK, when it comes to specific cultural requirements – and exceptional levels of service – not everyone is as accommodating as you would wish for. There are few locations of Braxted Park's calibre available on a venue-only basis, which allows you the freedom to bring in a caterer so if there are service providers you already know you want to use, Braxted's team are happy to accommodate them.

As the evening draws to a close, guests will leave the Estate via a torch lit driveway adding the finishing touch to a perfect day while you and your partner can retire to the luxurious Garden Cottage where you can prolong your country house experience, enjoy a chilled glass of bubbly and wind down together, sharing all those memories which have been made throughout the day.

Asiana Wedding readers are invited to attend a special open day on Sunday 12th September, between 10.30am and 4.30pm, where you will have a chance to meet the Braxted Park team, speak to recommended suppliers and discover the beautiful grounds of the estate. Or if you can't wait until then, call and arrange a private view, we guarantee you won't be disappointed.
